

PEEPING CARS GO OVER EMBANKMENT

Men Killed and More Two Score Persons Injured in Wreck.

DEATHS LIKELY

Men Rail Supposed to Be Cause of Disaster, but It Is Not Certain.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—Four men are known to have been killed more than two score were injured, probably fatally, when the Cincinnati express on the Pennsylvania road, which left here at 10:48 last night, was derailed at Glen hurst, about twenty-five miles west of the city, shortly before midnight. One man and three sleeping cars fell feet down an embankment into a coal mine, and at this point parallel to the main tracks.

Dead.
D. FINLEY, Pittsburgh.
L. BALDWIN, New York, Pullman conductor.

JONES, Pullman conductor.
Identified passenger.
Among the injured in Westchester are:

James Kelly, Chicago, suffering shock.
Mary Hadnut, New York, two ribs broken.
John Fenice, East Brownsville, Penn., fractured skull.
John Fallene, Philadelphia, scalp and contusions of hip.
Ranzbush, Harrisburg, badly injured.
H. G. Wilson of Indiana county, severely injured.
H. C. Miller, Altoona, Pa., side and hip injured.
Elizabeth Sarcle, Youngstown, O., face and contusion on hip.
Several names of injured are not yet by the railroad authorities.
The injured are as follows:
Mary Hadnut, Rapid, Ia., head, not serious.
Elizabeth Santrily, face cut.
Ruth Hadnut, New York, skull fractured.

Work in Snowstorm.

cars, all three of the modern pattern, were piled in the gully of the track. Sixteen of the injured persons were placed on a train and removed to the Westchester hospital, while trainmen and men from the surrounding county, with lanterns in the midst of a blinding snowstorm in an effort to rescue the survivors who might be in the wreckage.
The injured persons were taken to the Westchester hospital and some were sent to the Westchester hospital.
The bodies of the conductors were wedged between two of the train, known as the Cleveland night express, was drawn by locomotives and consisted of nine cars, one day coach, a combination mail car and United States mail car. The leading locomotive, which supposedly had a broken rail. The second locomotive, however, remained on the track as did all the cars except the sleepers, which plunged over the embankment when the train was at a sudden stop by the locomotive leaving the rails.

Outbreak of Plague.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Details of an outbreak of a bubonic plague in New Caledonia, have reached here from the French island.
The outbreak is believed to have been caused by a rat which had been placed in quarantine by the health department. Twenty natives of the island have already succumbed to the ravages of the plague, it is stated.

Deny Complicity.

SEOUL, Nov. 28.—Seven of the Koreans accused of conspiring in the life of Count Teruchi, Japanese general of Korea, were to the witness stand today.
In their testimony they denied complicity in the crime.

SAYS PATRIOTISM BEGSETS PROSPERITY

Bishop Spalding Preaches Thanksgiving Sermon and Finds an Example.

That the prosperity of this country depends to a great extent upon patriotism and Thanksgiving should be a day for resolutions for better citizenship, was the theme of the sermon delivered yesterday morning at St. Mark's cathedral by Bishop F. S. Spalding. The bishop took an Old Testament text from the Book of Deuteronomy. He showed how the tribe of Asher, once one of the most powerful of Israel, dwindled through lack of patriotism until in Christ's time there was but one person of that tribe living. The speaker declared the tribe lost its religion along with its loss of patriotism and that prosperity made them selfish.

The bishop's application of the ancient biblical story to modern times and conditions was in part as follows:
The value of the Old Testament consists in its applicability to other climes and other times. Its description of the land allotted to Asher describes Utah. This state of ours is blessed with many children, with fortunate soil, with mineral wealth, with freedom from civil strife. For these blessings we render thanks to God.
The perpetuity of our prosperity depends upon disinterested patriotism, unselfish public service, loyalty to true religion. Disinterested patriotism does not consist in waving the Stars and Stripes and declaring that ours is the land of the free and the home of the brave; nor does it consist in refusing to honor the flag because one is convinced that the nation is no longer the land of the free and the home of the brave. But it consists in realizing that the state is a necessary and therefore a divinely created social organization and that each true-hearted member is in duty bound to do all in his power to make the national life just and honest.

The social duty of the citizen is not fulfilled when he has provided for his own family, important as that may be.
He must also be ready, at whatever personal sacrifice of time and money, to endeavor to weaken and destroy the forces of social evil by strengthening the powers of equality and federation. A man does not fulfill his religious duty by repeating parrot-like the creed of his church and appropriating conventional social and religious offerings. It is his duty so to live that through him God may give new inspiration and vigor to the greater aspiration for high living and fuller consecration to Christ-like service to the church of which he is a member. There is but one way to make gratitude sincere, and that is by using aright God's blessings. Thanksgiving is not a time for comfortable self-complacency on how fortunate we have been, but a time for solemn resolution to better citizenship, more unselfish social service, deeper and truer worship of him from whom all blessings flow.

COLONEL RANSELL SUMMONED BY DEATH

Sergeant-at-Arms of United States Senate Dies as Result of Operation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Colonel Daniel M. Ransell, sergeant-at-arms of the United States senate, former United States marshal for the District of Columbia and an intimate friend of the late President Harrison, died here early this morning as a result of an operation performed November 7.

Colonel Ransell was one of the well-known figures of public life. He had been sergeant-at-arms of the senate for nearly twelve years, having been elected to the post in January, 1900. As such officer he had presided over the complete charge of all official senate affairs, the conduct of senate inquiries and the conduct of senate functions. He was 70 years old and a native of Indianapolis, where his body will be buried Sunday.

Colonel Ransell's Washington career began under President Harrison. He had been city clerk and city councillor of Indianapolis, a member of public commissions, and had held many positions of prominence in Republican party affairs. In the course of a three-year service in the union army he lost his right arm before his public career began.

CARDINAL GIBBONS CELEBRATES MASS

By International News Service.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—In the presence of President Taft, eight members of the cabinet, the majority of the members of the supreme court of the United States and representatives of all the twenty-one republics of the western hemisphere, Cardinal Gibbons today celebrated the annual mass to commemorate Pan-American unity.
The mass, held in St. Patrick's Roman Catholic church, was remarkable this year for the presence of practically all official Washington, and the big before the time set for the opening of the ceremonies. To offset the somber black worn by all the diplomats, the pillars of the church were wreathed in American flags and the dark blue and white of the Pan-American union.

The Most Rev. James J. Keane, archbishop of Dubuque, delivered the sermon, which formed the principal portion of the ceremony, choosing for his text the need of international peace and unity and quoting from the scriptures with reference to the benefit of friendship between nations. Cardinal Gibbons did not speak, but, assisted by the papal delegate, Monsignor Giovanni, blessed the assemblage and prayed for the continuation of the prosperity of all the nations represented.

At the close of this ceremony the president, accompanied by Mrs. Taft and Secretary Hilges, went to All Souls Episcopalian church, where they listened to the official Thanksgiving sermon preached by the Rev. W. G.
B. Pierce, chaplain of the senate.

STRONG EVIDENCE BY NOTED STATESMAN

Hon. Marshall Tankersley
Writes of Important Facts:
Many Such Letters.

There is no better known man in Houston, Texas, right now, than Marshall Tankersley, formerly practitioner of law, and a great power in the country at one time. He was formerly a member of the legislature and he and his parents were among the pioneers of this city. Mr.
Tankersley says:

"I have been afflicted with asthma and catarrh of the stomach for ten years. I also had a bad cold which troubled me in damp weather, and has been getting steadily worse for years. A few days ago when I was feeling unusually depressed, a friend of mine advised me to try Plant Juice and I decided to follow his advice. I have finished one bottle and am ready to begin on another one.
It has acted on my liver and kidneys and purified my blood in fine shape. My cough is much better and I feel greatly benefitted in every way. I am going to continue the treatment."

Plant Juice is the greatest remedy of the age for all diseases of the stomach, kidneys, liver and blood, for biliousness, nervousness, sleeplessness and a general run down condition. It will give immediate results. For sale at Schramm-Johnson's Five Drug Stores.

RODZIANKO CHOSEN PRESIDENT OF DUMA

Americans of Jewish Faith or American Goods Will Not Gain Favor in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 28.—The Russian duma met today. M. Rod-zianko, the Octoberist deputy of Yekaterinoslav, who was president of the third duma, was re-elected president by a vote of 251 to 150.
M. Rodzianko, who was re-elected by the vote of the constitutional center with the aid of the left, in his address spoke of the public interest in the Balkans and the necessity for sacrifices in money and, if necessary, men, on the part of Russia.

The whole house cheered enthusiastically.
Thus the legend that the Russian press did not reflect public opinion in championing the cause of the Slavs was discredited.
The new duma disappointed the gloomy critics who predicted the triumph of reaction. At the last moment members favoring the constitutional principles rallied and previously irreconcilable foes in the opposition and the center formed a coalition which carried the vote into the enemy's camp by excluding the right from any possibility of electing the president.

The fourth duma declared itself a progressive body, but it cannot be inferred from that that a majority will be found to favor the American contention in the passport controversy.
There are only three of the Jewish faith in the new house.
The extreme nationalists are evidently in the minority, but the bulk of the members, it is said, are not prepared to give to American Jews or American goods preferential treatment.
The policy of the government will be to render the Russian market independent of American cotton and American agricultural machinery and in this it is fairly certain to be supported by the duma.

Organizing Boycott.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 28.—Several meetings have been held at Chies Pa-la, to organize a boycott of Russian goods, according to a dispatch from that city. The Chinese are endeavoring to collect a war fund amounting to $5,000,000 and to collect 2000 volunteers among the inhabitants.

Wake Up! You Lazy Stomach!

Make Your Stomach Cheerfully Do Its Work—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Digest Your Food and Assist the Stomach.

People who complain they are worn to a frazzle are nearly always dyspeptic and are recommended to use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. The stomach gets lazy, food ferments and sours, gas belches up, there are symptoms of bloating, the blood becomes thick and sluggish, the liver is blamed, the head is heavy, the mind a blank and the dining room is a chamber of horrors.

One of the greatest evils of our modern life is the quick lunch. To this evil, as much or more, than any other, may be traced the preponderance of the stomach troubles of our times. Instead of taking time to thoroughly masticate the food before swallowing it, the average person rushes through the meal, bolting the food, deglutition taking place while it is only partially mixed with saliva, and only half masticated, thus leaving the stomach to do the work the teeth should have done.
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain digestive elements, a single grain being capable of digesting 3000 grains of food, including meats, eggs, grain, vegetables, starches and mineral matters.
They prepare every particle of food by thorough digestion for ready absorption and assimilation by the lactical glands, which pass it into the blood, whence it is conducted to all parts of the system, rebuilding and revitalizing life.
Every druggist has Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in stock and sells them at
